Learn about heat pumps from professionals

Join us for expert presentations on heat pump space and water heating, with plenty of time for Q&A and a chance to talk with local contractors.

This is a public workshop and there is no cost to attend.

Instructor Dan Perunko is co-founder of Balance Point Home Performance where he provides consulting, design, installation and troubleshooting services for advanced HVAC systems. Dan also teaches courses for other contractors and designers on how to improve the performance of their building and mechanical systems.
